NO PEER.

A CORRESPONDENT'S SUMMARY OF THE FREEMAN'S MERITS—GENERAL NEWS.

Paducah, Ky., Special.

IN the next issue of The Freeman look out for wedding bells. The agent would like to see the city of Paducah get a move on her. The Freeman is only 5 cents a week or 20 cents a month, yet you can take it by the year if you desire. Every teacher of the first thought (you should know what thought we mean) ought to take The Freeman, not next week or next month, but now. Every preacher worthy of the pulpit would do a good act to give it out to his congregation, for if any one can tell me a colored newspaper that will compare with The Freeman any where in the United States, send me a copy, I will take it, pay for it and read it. You can read news from eighteen or twenty states in one paper, then think of the Relative list where you chance to find your long lost relation or friends. The white people take it why not the black people? Is it not high time that the black man should be wide awake and stick together? Elder Thomas Taylor, pastor of the Seventh Street Baptist church, who took suddenly ill a few days since, has not fully recovered but is better. Charley Connor, of Mechanicsburg, is dangerously ill with pneumonia. Lawrence Bolen, better known as Doll Bolen, is sick from a very sore mouth and throat. Mrs. Amanda Beech, of Jersey, has two very sick children. Miss Ellen Dunn, who had such a serious attack of Malaria, is able to be up again, able to do some work. Miss Nellie Wilson, of South Ninth street, daughter of Jordan Wilson, is convalescing from an attack of chills and fever. Ernest Williams is very sick. Call and see see him. Mrs. Annie Lindsay, also A. Bullitt are very sick. Clinton Matthew, the well-known barber at Stowers and Jones Broadway barbershop, is convalescing from a severe attack of brain fever, yet his wife is also sick Mrs. Hall Daniel has been very sick but is better.

Gus Warren is on the river again for ports in Mississippi.

James Liverpool, formerly of Memphis, Tenn., has a position as barber in the Palmer house.

The many preachers from this city and vicinity who attended the A. M. E. annual conference at Columbus, Ky., which convened Oct. 27th, have returned to enter upon their charges.

Elder L. Hamilton remains at his former charge in this city. The work on the Burks A. M. E. church is progressing nicely. The building committee of the Washington Street Baptist church has postponed building their new church until next Spring, and then they expect to put up their $12,000 or $15,000 building.

Rush Green, a prosperous farmer who resides in the county, comes to town regular for The Freeman. Let us have fifty more country thinkers of enough race interest to take The Freeman.

Mrs Annie Mattock, of East Madison street, left to visit her brother at Lexington, on the 5th, inst.

Henry Green, a practical colored engineer in the ice factory of the city, seems to want all the colored newspapers that comes to the city. Mr. Green says one reason that he likes colored newspapers is because he likes to see them in circulation, and the way to have them in circulation is to support them. Give us one thousand of that kind of men and women and we will have a still better paper. Is it not strange that some of our want to-be or main citizens won't take a leading colored newspaper of the country at 5 cents a week, but on the other hand pay 15 cents for a local newspaper that calls them almost anything from nigger down. I want a small useful boy to sell copies on the market. Will pay him well. Call at 1003 N. W. corner Washington and Tenth streets, Paducah, Ky. If you want things to go smooth, pay me without me asking you for it. I must pay the publisher to get papers.

T. A. WOODWARD, Agt.

WOULD NOT DO WITHOUT IT.

Dear sir:—I like your paper and would not do without it.

THE LATE HON. JAMES SIDNEY HINTON,
Prominent politician, and ex member of the Indiana Legislature.

The Negro's Denominator.

Danville, Va., Special.

The Freeman of October 22d contained an article by Rev. Cæsar A. A. Taylor, declaring we are Negroes. But I say we are not Negroes. It is said we get the name Negro from the river Niger in Africa. And that word is an adjective of the second declension meaning black. from Niger, Nigra, Nigrum. If that be the case, since we are not all black, how can we be Negroes? We come nearer being colored than we do being Negroes or Afro-Americans, because you can find any color you want in our race. If you want to see it come South. And I am told it is the same way in Africa. I was in school at Lincoln University, Pa., with ten Africans and they were not all black, and you could not call them Negroes from the word Niger that means black. I think the better name for us would be Africans. As our ancestors came from Africa, and every nation upon the globe speaks of his country but the African. If a man's ancestors come from Spain what do you call him? A Spaniard. If from France you call him a Frenchman. If from Ireland you say he is an Irishman, and he will clamor for Ireland. If from Italy, Scotland, etc., he is denominated by his ancestral home and likewise if he has descended from a native of Africa, why is he not an African? Modern geography classifies the inhabitants of the earth into four great races, and to assign the name of Ethiopians, but the proper name for us is Africans. Thereby, as do other nationalities, we honor the country of our race origin Nor need we be ashamed since Africa is one of the finest countries in the world. And I believe God so arranged it that we should be enslaved that we might be preserved, and absorb the knowledge and christian precepts of the white man of this country and return and redeem Africa. But we are teaching our people to turn their backs upon the title "Africa," and adopting the title of "America," which title as far as full citizenship is concerned is a meaningless farce. The Freeman reports from Waverly, Tenn., where the white people had run the colored people away. Some had to sacrifice their property for nothing. Dr. D A. Robinson died at Danville, Va, October 29th, aged 33 years He had been in bad health for some time past, but his condition had improved and we hoped his life would have been spared many years. He was able to attend to his duties on Friday afternoon, during the night, however, he was taken with hemorrhage of the lungs, and died very soon after. He was born in Lewisburg, Va., was a graduate of Lincoln University, Pa., in the class of '85; studied medicine at Leonard Medical College, Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C., and received his diploma in 1888. He began to practice his profession in this city soon after and was quite successful. He was highly esteemed by both white and colored. The funeral took place from Holbrook Street Presbyterian church of which he was a member. Sermon by Rev. W. E. Carr, pastor. The funeral procession was was one of the largest ever seen in this city. He leaves a widow and one little boy.

Kelsey, Ky.

The Free Will Baptist held their quarterly conference at Marion Friday and Saturday before the fourth Sunday in October. The following Sunday Elder L. Grissom's funeral was preached by Revs. Harris and Jones. Rev. J. Harris, of Fulton, Ky., and Miss Sallie Woods of Marion, were united in marriage at the C M E. church in Marion, the fourth Sunday night in October, Rev. M. A. Jones, of Henderson, Ky., officiated. Rev. W. P. Johnson, of Woodsberry, Ky., has just closed a successful series of protracted meetings at the C P. church of Fredonia.

Biddle University.

Charlotte, N. C., Special.

Never before in its history has Biddle opened with so many students as it did this year. The number is being daily augmented and bids fair to reach 250 before Christmas. President Landers favored us with a very interesting account of his trip to Canada while attending the Pan-Presbyterian Alliance Among the many other things he said was that if any prejudice exists between the white and black men it is not shown in the least; that there is apparently no antipathy between the races, but that everyone moves in his respective vocation without any friction whatever. A part of the time of the weekly prayer meeting is allotted to those students who during the summer were engaged in S. S missionary work to give account of their work and relate the experiences they encountered on the field. H. S. Peterson, the first to give his experience, was stationed in Arkansas. Although many obstacles confronted him yet with indomitable pluck and courage he overcame them all and succeed in doing a great work in that state. Mr. Peterson offers some very flattering inducements for both teachers and preachers to go west H. L. McCrory also entertained us with a glowing account of his work in North Carolina. He did some very effective work in his field and succeeded in organizing several Sunday Schools. There are several missionaries to be heard from. The Mattoon and Clariosophic Literary Associations are in successful operation again. The prospects for another year in success literary work is very encouraging. A mock court has been organized with H. M. Stevenson, judge; T. H Ayers, solicitor. A very interesting case on docket is that of a suit for breach of promise. The learned counsels on both sides are acquitting themselves with unusual activity in gathering evidence pro and con. We have no doubt that much legal talent will be displayed and much eloquence will flow from the intellectual combatants. Politics is the absorbing topic of the day. Foot ball is the principal sport on the campus just now. Several elevens have been organized and some interesting games are looked for. The Freeman is hailed with delight here.

PASTOR'S RECEPTION.

GOOD CHEER ABOUNDS—THE HOME OF J. K. POLK—HER PEOPLE—GENERAL NOTES.

THE city of Columbia a historic town, having been the birth place of several notable characters, the records of whose achievements is a part of the history of our country. Among the number may be mentioned President Jas. K. Polk, whose administration was signalized by the victory with Mexico, and the final annexation of the great territory of Texas to the United States. But these matters are so familiar I need not further allude to them. I would like however to briefly speak of another matter. Not long since the spacious auditorium of the A. M. E church contained a large number of devoted and sympathizing friends of the pastor, Rev. Evans Tyne, who having served so devotedly this charge for the period of a twelve month, was about to take his leave for a large field in Louisville, Ky. The exercises were very impressive and there was not a soul in the whole gathering but who wished the pastor a safe journey and a warm reception with the people of Kentucky. Mr. Editor, words would not convey to you the spirit, the fervor and enthusiasm which characterized the assemblage Elder Tryne had endeared himself to every man, woman and child in Columbia. The church of which he was so fond has always found in him an able defender and zealous advocate. He was true to his connections of duty, true to his church, true to his race and true to his God. Do you wonder, sir that such a man was universally beloved? Elder Tryne was pre eminently a Sabbath School man; he dearly loved little children, was sympathetic and kind, hence the feeling was reciprocated by the children. They all loved him. You may therefore imagine what the feelings were and the character of the utterances on the occasion of the 25th inst. I have witnessed many gatherings of a similar character, but none ever that eclipsed this in fervor and interest.

Mr. Editor, do we not here, sir, see an exemplification of the principle that "Right not might shall rule the land." and that "Godliness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people." It may be, sir, that through the efforts of such men as yourself, Elder Tryne and many others of our land, good and true and filled with the spirit of Christ, love for the race with which you are identified, and a progressive and intelligent manhood and vim that the country must be taken for God, and the race redeemed from the enthrallments, vicissitudes and oppressions which now beset it on every side. Elder Tryne was born in obscurity, and his early associations were in slavery and amid its surroundings. But he possessed within his bosom, that spirit which even slavery can not kill, ambition. Early in life possessing himself of a family the cares of which taxed him to the utmost, but thank God, by whose favor and the will power of the individual, he finally mastered all these difficulties, ascended the ladder step by step and if we rightly read between the lines, bids fair to become one of the heroes of the great church that you and I, sir delight to honor. All this has been attained by indomitable pluck and energy. This should be a lesson for our boys of the present day, who instead of utilizing their advantages are often found loafing around bar rooms, on the street corners and in other disreputable places, waiting for something to turn up. Why don't they go to work and turn something up? The occasion was a grand one and everybody here irrespective of denominational lines testifies as to Bro. Tryne's real worth, and all unite in wishing him a happy and useful carreer in "Old Kentuck," Among the pleasant features of the evening was the presence of the new pastor, Rev. J. H. Turner, recently of Texas, who with his lady inspired all. Mr. and Mrs Turner felt perfectly at home and all present united in doing them honor. This is characteristic of Columbians; they are a good people, hospitable and kind. The exercises being duly completed a general hand-shaking followed.

McKeesport, Pa.

Plans and specifications are being formed by several of our enterprising colored citizens to open a co operative grocery in the Spring. The largest huxtering business of the city is conducted by W. F. Sanders & Son. Miss Mamie Trent, of Cumberland, will spend the winter here. Frank Anderson has returned. The B. & O station and yards are now kept in first-class condition, the company having placed Wm. Christian supervisor of the m e.

GLEANED FROM PHILOSOPHERS' PUNS AND PRESS COMMENTS PERTAINING TO WOMEN.

"A race, no less than a nation, is prosperous in proportion to the intelligence of its women."

BE PATIENT WITH THE LIVING.

"Sweet friend, when thou and I art gone
Beyond earth's weary labor,
When small shall be our need of grace
From comrade or from neighbor;
Passed all the strife, the toil, the care,
And done with all the sighing—
What tender truth shall we have gained,
Alas! by simply dying.

Then lips too chary of the praise
Will tell our merits over,
And eyes too swift our faults to see
Shall no defect discover;
Then hands that would not lift a stone
When stones were thick to cumber
Our steep hill path, will scatter flowers
Above our pillowed slumber.

Sweet friend, perchance both you and I,
Ere love is past forgiving,
Should take the earnest lesson home—
Be patient with the living!
To-day's repressed rebuke may save
Our blinding tears to-morrow;
Then, patience, e'en when keenest edge
May whet a nameless sorrow.

'Tis easy to be gentle when
Death silence shames our clamor,
And easy to discern the best
Through memory's mystic glamor;
But wise it were for you and me,
Ere love is past forgiving,
To take the tender lesson home—
Be patient with the living."

Echoes From the "Golden Gate."

San Francisco, Cal., Special.

Readers of The Freeman may be interested to know how real estate is selling in San Francisco, what railroad facilities we have, what our climate is, what class of people constitute our population, etc., so I will speak to them through The Freeman. San Francisco passed through all the turmoil and excitement of a presidential and municipal election and all other matters were lost sight of in the interest of politics. There were ten political parties in the fight, each claiming their various candidates to be the only good ones in the field. Four of these were National in character, viz.: the Republican, Democratic, People and Prohibition parties In conjunction with these parties the local offices were being contended for by the Property Owners' party, the Union Labor party, the Licensed Taxpayers' party, the Reform Democratic party, the Old Democratic party, the Non-Partisan party and numerous independent candidates who acknowledge no particuiar party. The Australian ballot law which was given a trial, at this election has mixed matters pretty much and considerably annoys the professional politicians by throwing obstacles in the way of the perpetration of frauds, which under the old system enabled them to elect their candidates. The number of registered votes at this election were 68,292 The climate is all that could be desired. For the past six or eight months the thermometer has not raised 85 degrees at the noon hour nor fallen below 65 degrees in the night air. The city of San Francisco is situated on a peninsular, surrounded on three sides by water, viz.: the Pacific ocean, the Golden Gate and San Francisco Bay, which, it is claimed, accounts for its delightful climate, which is tempered by the cool health-giving breezes from the Pacific. It is a city of over 300,000 population, and has at the present time more miles of street railroads than any other city in the United States. Although proficient in street railroads, it is sadly deficient in trans-continental roads, having but one to connect it with the outside world, a fact which accounts for its slow progress and growth during the past ten years. It has one of the finest public parks in the United States, Golden Gate Park, and this together with its small parks sprinkled throughout the city, its fine hotels, streets, drives, etc., will eventually make it one of the rivals of Chicago and New York. Real estate sells very reasonable, builder's materials are cheap and work being plenty, all combine to make it a workingman's paradise. Churches of all denominations are plentifully scattered about the city. The population is composed of all kind and classes of people, making San Francisco a thoroughly cosmopolitan city in the true sense of the word.

Education and Educators.

There has been so much said concerning education that it has become to some as "sounding brass or tinkling cymbal." It has gone the rounds of the press, the pulpit and the lecture hall. The boy in his teens going to school can say something of importance concerning education. The untutored peasant in his rude langnage can produce philosophical points touching thereon, yet none of them are original. Hence, to be able to say something on this subject is not a very great attainment. But, although men had talked of the zig-zag lightning playing on the bosom of the cloud hundreds of years before, it was Samuel Morse who produced the crowning thought and uttered the model phrase.

The meaning of the word "education" is often mistaken, a prevailing idea being that one who has attended college several years has an inexhaustible supply of it, or one who has a smattering of Latin and Greek and perhaps only partially understands the English branch. So it is usually conceded that he or she is educated, and in many rural districts, especially in the South, pedantic display is far in advance of true education. Last summer while teaching in the country, I listened to a Baptist preacher who claimed to be a college graduate, and I will quote a few of his expressions and sentiments, that you may judge as to the meritoriousness of his educational claims. I spoke of Fred Douglass having been minister to Hayti, the graduate replied: "Well, I suppose he is a good preacher." He also used the following expressions in his sermon: "It are;" "he are;" "us is." This man understood just how to hoodwink the uninformed and passed for the highest educated Negro that had ever been in that vicinity. Such instances in the South are not rare, hence, you see, that the masses have yet to learn the first principles of education.

Being well acquainted with books is essential to education, but can never truly be considered education—intellectual education. It does not consist altogether of knowledge obtained from various branches of study. This is only one of the three conditions of education, known as acquisition. If either of the three is of inferior rank it is acquisition, yet neither could be excluded from or omitted in education. Acquisition fills the mind with knowledge; communication gives this knowledge to others; discipline uses it beneficially for ourselves and others. Hence, you see that education is the combined odors of tripple flowers on the same stem. It is not a spontaneous plant, but one that grows only by careful and continued cultivation. With many there is no difference between education and learning. Doubtless, the words are customarily used synonymously. Learning is an accumulation of knowledge; education converts accumulated knowledge into form and makes it a part of our being. It brings to us the experience of myriads of ages past and teaches us to use them in making the best of our own lives. Intellectual education is the optical instrument through which we can take a complete view of the past and a glimpse of the future.

The educated eye sees beauty in nature, of which the untutored never dreams. Educated minds have pryed into the inexhaustible store houses of nature and brought forth inventions to which the world owes its advancement. Education is strength, ignorance is weakness. Education is light, ignorance is darkness. If one is not educated he must be ignorant or unlearned, neither of which can ever fulfill the mission of education. No false or learned display can ever raise the masses to the desired standard of intelligence.

Not every one who has Professor before his name is an educator. Were the educators proportioned to the graduates turned out from our colleges, the demand for such characters would be greatly diminished. I admit that the supply of teachers is greater than the demand, but you must remember that all teachers are not educators, neither are all educators teachers. It is often said that "poets are born and not made," but educators are made and not born. It depends to a very great extent on one's self as to whether he will be an educator or not, One may have gone through the college course, but if he has not made this knowledge a part of himself and acquired the power of communicating it to others, making it a part of their being, he may be a teacher but not an educators. Any teacher who depends, altogether, on teaching small county schools can never be a very great educator. The masses are starving for intellectual food, while hundreds of scholars with diplomas claim that they can find nothing to do. Young men you are called on to go into every county and hamlet and establish academies and high schools for educating the race. Do not wait for an appointment in some college or State Normal school, but go to those who are calling for your aid and have your name enrolled among the heroes, educators and benefactors.

I would like to know the whereabouts of some of my relatives from whom I was separated in slavery. I came from Henderson county, West Tenn., near Jack's Creek; my parents, Peter and Melvina Brummer, belonged to Jonn Brummer. I had eleven brothers and sisters—Lucy, James, Nelons, Martin, Betsey, Clarice, Thomas, Dabney, Martha, Jordan, Mary. My sister Mary and myself were given to James Dixson, at Jack's Creek, and I was swapped to Evan Thompson; he sold me to George Stuart. Thomas and Clarrice were in Mississippi with Woodson Anderson. Any information will be thankfully received by Charlotte Stuart, Searcy, Ark.

I would like to find some of my relatives; my mother, Rose Sheals, went to Ben Sheals at or near Meplis, Ala, Chas., Julia Sheals and I went to John Sheals near a little town called Industry, Tex. I left three cousins in Texas by the names of Lace, Bob, David and Abram Sheals; at John Sheals' death we went to his children. York Catling was their guardian until their mother married John Holman, after which Ben Sheals, their uncle, came and took us away. I married Amanda Sample, a bright mulatto girl. We had no children, but she was about to become a mother. When I left I took a horse and mule and went to Mexico; since that time I have wrote but could find no trace of them. I am anxious to find my wife. Any informotion will be thankfully received by Thomas Sheals, 366½ Eldorado street Stockton, Cal (Alabama & Texas papers please copy.)

I am in search of relatives from whom I was separated in slavery. I went from the state of Alabama, Barby county. My owners at that time were Sharpes, Bammers and Franks My father's name was Jack Ephron, my brothers' and sisters' names were Harriet Ephron, Nick Ephron, John Green and Carr Green; my mother's name was Mary Ephron. My father belonged to the Sharps. I was taken from Alabama and carried to Dykesville, La. Any information concerning the above will be cheerfully received by Mariah Abbamier, Dykesville P. O., La,

I would like to know the whereabouts of some of my people, which, to my remembrance, belonged to a slave-holder by the name of Gamble and lived at Defate County, Mississippi; my mothers name was Ellen Gamble, fathers name, Anthony Gamble, and four brothers, the oldest I would like to know the whereabouts of my father, mother and two brothers. They were carried from Palmyr, Mo., a good many years ago. Their names were Thomas and Rhody Hawkins. Father's name was Wm. Henderson. He belonged to a man in Marion county by the name of Dr. Daniel Johnson. They were carried to Tennessee by the name of Dr. Johnson. The last heard of my father he was in Chicago and went by the name of Johnson. I was left by my mother in Philadelphia, a little town about twenty miles from Palmyr, Mo. with Dr. Daniel Johnson. Any information concerning any of these parties will be cheerfully received by Mrs. Mary Smith, Palmyr, Mo.

Henry Gamble, next Ellison, Walter and Alander; sisters, Jane, Mollie, Channie, Harriett, Emiline and myself, Eliza. Old Gamble had two sisters, both married; one named Steward and the other Walker; to his sister Mrs. Steward, he gave myself and sister Jane and my sister Channie and Mollie to his sister Mrs. Walker, and my sister Jane was married to a man by the name of Abb, and my people when learning they were free, left old Gamble's place by night but could not take me as I was kept up to the house, but I remember that in a short time after they left my mother, sent my sister Mollie back after me but they would not let her have me. Any information concerning any of the persons will be cheerfully received by Mrs. Eliza Dyson, 3113 Bell Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Memphis and Holly Springs, Miss., papers please copy.

THE VANDALIA LINE

Invites attention to a few facts.

First—It is the shortest and quickest line between Indianapolis and St. Louis, and runs four fast express trains each day in addition to local accommodation trains.

Second—Pullman Vestibuled Sleeping Cars are carried on all through trains.

Third—The employes are uniformly polite and attentive.

Fourth—All complaints of whatever character receive prompt and careful attention.

Fifth—The mechanical excellence of the roadbed being constantly maintained, and the construction of the train equipments being of the latest and most substantial character, the highest speed can be made with perfect comfort and safety.

Sixth—The new and beautiful dining cars, with their dainty china, rich silverware, spotless linen and bounteous bill of fare are a delight to travelers.

Seventh—Trains are run with remarkable regularity.

Eighth—For the above and other good reasons the United States Government has chosen the Vandalia Line for its fast Mail Route between the East and West.

Test the above statements by giving the line a trial.

NATIONAL DESTINY.

Written expressly for The Freeman.

We have just passed the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America, which has grown to be a great country and a most wonderful government. But ere the student be totally absorbed in the history of his country let us look elsewhere for a while. Let us look, for instance, at the great government that once existed in the cities of Babylon and Ninevah, whose people had made wonderful strides in civilization, arts and science, the splendor of which no modern city has excelled. But where now is all that glory? It is with difficulty that even the site of these great cities can be found. Hence, we see it will not do to found a government upon splendor. Go, next, to regal Rome that sat upon seven hills and made her power felt as far as ships sailed and men trod. Her military power was nothing less than wonderful; still she was deficient in other respects. Proud statesmen, orators and poets were among her productions, and she was a proud Republic, but behold now her ruin. No more her Ciceros arouse the Roman citizen with his matchless oratory; nor Cæsars lead legions to victorious conquest. Her proud state has been forever humbled. Had one told the Romans in the height of their power, the retributive fate that awaited her on account of her impurities and injustices, it could not have been believed, and if it be possible to dwell in the vast abyss of eternity under any deception, doubtless many a Roman still thinks "Esse Romanus, esse rex"

Let us take a glancing look at cultured Greece, the mother of arts and literature, and ask where is her ancient greatness. It, too, has gone and nothing remains save the misty shadows of a greatness flown. Arouse from his slumber the Greek who left his country flourishing, and at once he faints from a comparison of the past and present "Fair Greece, sad relic of departed worth, immortal though no more. Though fallen yet great. Go where the blue Nile sweeps along northward to the great sea. Read from the mysterious hieroglyphics of a greatness forever passed from a "Land of Pyramids" The ruins alone of which verify its ancient greatness; you will then see ours is not the first great country, but little by little from impurities and injustices, the Supreme Ruler has seen fit to humble them to a fate that we hope may never befall America. But as to our own grand government, every body is willing to admit that it is not what it should be. Politicians admit that in the mad rush for power, partisanship is outweighing patriotism, that injustice and that corruption often prevails; that the sanctity of the ballot has been polluted, and the authority and decision of courts set aside. Hence it is time to ask: "What is the destiny of America, and whither are we drifting?" since other countries have fallen on account of impurities and injustices.

From many portions of this country comes the wail of oppression and injustice. Is it not time they were heeded? In no country are so many laws made and broken as in ours.

Let the developments of a country be what it may, otherwise history proves that the perpetuity of a government or a nation depends upon its purity and moral status. And I fear that the pollution of the ballot and the injustice toward the Negro in the form of mobocracy and discriminations are crimes for which a retribution will some day be demanded that will well nigh destroy our great Republic. It is worthy of consideration and let us continue to appeal for reform. This reformation must be brought about not by political harangues, but by men being influenced to be morally better. How dare the vast army of Christ remain silent relative to the injustices perpetrated in this country! How dare this able country to declare its inability to protect certain citizens at home and yet bid defiance to vast nations abroad. At this rate America will weary heaven with hypocricy. If America would see four more centuries of prosperity, let her learn to be in reality what she is nominally. The same power that humbled other nations for their wrong doing still exists and may for like offense humble her. Then let her remember the departed glory of other nations, and that

"Where empires once towered unjust,
The skulky fox now digs in little heaps of dust."

FRESH ENCOMIUMS.

MR. SWEENEY WINS DISTINCTIVE LAURELS WITH EACH APPEARANCE BEFORE THE PEOPLE.

No colored man, save grand old Frederick Douglas was ever honored with an ovation equal to that tendered Mr. Allison Sweeney in this city last night. His speech, which lasted two hours, was received from first to last with close attention, being frequently applauded, and as he touched upon the various political topics of the times, his telling hits against the Democratic party were highly enjoyed. He traced the history of the Democratic party for the last thirty-two years, showing it to be an organization simply of negation, characterless and aimless; a party of trickery and expediency, anything or nothing, its whole object was to obtain power, which they knew not how to exercise. * * * The Democratic party in the Nation to-day advocated free-trade in its platform Can any man doubt which party is the wageworker's friend. The speaker said the black race owed much to the Republican party, which had secured to them their freedom, their right to vote, and to citizenship, while the Democratic party had bitterly opposed every measure tending to bring about those priceless blessings. No Negro could be a democrat, according to the nature of things. Democratic leaders might talk nicely to them, and slip a little money into their hands, but he is a very verdant politician, indeed, who thinks any Negro, anywhere, after receiving the money, will vote other than the Republican ticket. * * * It is sufficient to add that the eloquent and able gentleman, who is editor of the Indianapolis Freeman, made a decidedly favorable impression upon the immense audience, black and white who were privileged to here him. The verdict is, that the three great speakers of the campaign thus far in Madison are Beveridge, O'Donnell and Sweeney.—

Madison daily Courier, Oct.,25.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

ROCKVILLE, IND, OCT. 28.—Mr, Allison Sweeney, editor of the Freeman, spoke for two hours to the coal-miners of Coxville, last night, in a maner that has created a profound sensation. Mr. Sweeney indulged in no ridicule of Grover Cleveland, nor did he abuse the Democratic party for its past record, but taking up the issue as contained in the free-trade plank of the Democratic platform he appealed to all voters, irrespective of party, to go to the polls on election morning simply as American citizens, resolved to maintain, if possible, the proud rank enjoyed by American industry and labor against the insinuating encroachment of foreign countries.

Special to The Indianapolis Journal.

BLOOMINGTON, IND., NOV. 2—One of the most successful meetings held by the republicans here thus far during the campaign was the Sweeney meeting last night. Mr Sweeney ably and logically discussed the living issues of the present campaign in a two and one half hour speech. His discussion of the tariff issue was so simple that even the humblest could understand. He gave the Democratic stump speakers, who happened to be in the audience, something to think about.

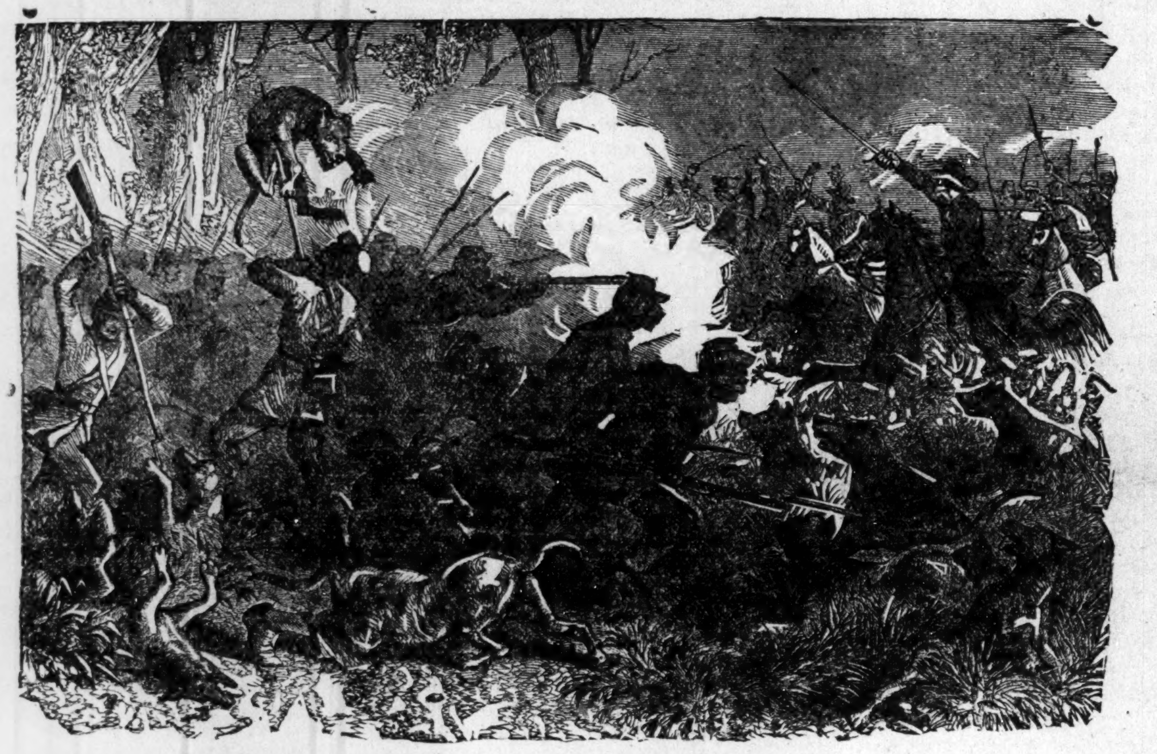
The concert at Ebenezer A. M. E. Church on the 24th, 25th and 26th was greeted with large audiences and was the successful event of the season. Madam Selika is the only colored vocalist tutored in Europe. Mrs. Giles and daughter, of Hartford county, Md., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Wing Mrs. Annie Warfield, of Hartford county, was the guest of her son, W. H. Carpenter and wife, recently. Miss Rosetta Henry, daughter of Rev. P. S. Henry, was married last week at her father's residence to Wm. Lee, Rev. Lawson C. Rich, assistant rector of Mt. Cavalry Presbyterian Church, officiating. The bride wore a white silk robe trimmed with lace, also a veil and orange blossoms. Miss Sarah Stevens was brides' maid, and John Henry, brother of the bride, was best man Mrs. Katie Yeoman, of Savannah, Ga, after being the guest of Mrs Kate L. Needal for ten weeks, has returned home. The Patient Circle of the King's Daughters gave a Lemon party at 1058 Argyle avenue Friday evening, Oct. 28th. It was a success. The 40th marriage anniversary of Mr. and Mrs Francis Durand was held at their residence Wednesday, Oct. 19th. The house was filled with friends assembled to do honor to the auspicious occasion.

Winchester, Va.

Pugsley Bros.' famous Tennessee Warblers appeared here at the Odd Fellows' Hall, Oct 31st and Nov. 1st, under the auspices of the I. O. O. F. Lodge, No. 1461, and the Sisters of Love and Charity Society. Winchester gave them a warm reception. Ruby Shelton, pianoist; Major Daniels, the phenomenal basso, and Will Hunt, the unequaled baritone, have created quite a stir in the eastern musical world. R. C. Pugsley, their advance, is certainly a hustler and made many friends during his sojourn among us. Rev. George Lee, of Greenville, Va., is helping Rev. I Emer in the A. M. E. revival. Mr. R. Jennings has the school at Middletown, Va. George Fletcher has the school at Newtown, Va. Every one that reads The Freeman says that it is improving very much. Miss T. R Webb has gone to Woodstock, Va., to teach school. Miss Mary Pollard will tak the school at Cedar Hill, Va. J. T. Marker's house will soon be ready for use.



TERRIBLE FIGHT WITH BLOODHOUNDS.

The 1st South Carolina Regiment was attacked by the Confederates with bloodhounds, at Pocatalago Bridge, Oct. 23rd, 1862. The hounds rushed fiercely upon the troops, who quickly shot or bayoneted them and exultingly held aloft the beasts that had been so long a terror to the negro race.

CLAIRVOYANT.

MRS. MARTH, the world renowned and highly celebrated business and test TRANCE CLAIRVOYANT, reveals everything. No imposition. Can be consulted on all affairs of life. Business, Love and Marriage a specialty. Every mystery revealed, also, of absent, deceased and living friends. Removes all troubles and estrangements, unites the separated and causes speedy marriages. $1,000 challenge to any medium who can exceed her in her startling revelations of the past, present and future events of one's life. Remember, she will not for any price flatter you; you may rest assured you will gain facts without nonsense. She can be consulted upon all affairs of Life, Love, Courtship, Marriage, Friends, etc., with description of future companion. She is very accurate in describing missing friends, enemies etc. Her advice upon sickness, change in business, journeys, lawsuits, contested wills, divorce and speculation is valuable and reliable. She reads your destiny—good or bad; she withholds nothing.

MRS. MARTH, born with a double veil, is a seventh daughter, tells your entire life—past, present and future—in a DEAD TRANCE; has the power of any two clairvoyants you ever met. In tests she tells your mother's full name before marriage, the names of all your family, their ages and description, the name and business of your present husband, the name of your next if you are to have one, the name of the young man who now calls on you, the name of your future husband, and the day month and year of your marriage—how many children you have or will have—whether you are married or single; whether your present sweetheart will be true to you and if he will marry you; if you have no sweetheart, she will tell you when you will have, and his name, business and date of acquaintance. Clairvoyantly ALL YOUR FUTURE will be told or written in an honest, clear plain manner and in a dead trance. Mothers should know the success of their husbands and children, young ladies should know everything about their sweetheart or intended husband. Do not keep company, marry or go into business until you know all, do not let silly religious scruples prevent your consulting.

Madame is the only one in the world who can tell you the FULL NAME of your future husband, with age and date of marriage, and tells whether the one you love is true or false.

EGYPTIAN TALISMANS.

MRS. MARTH, while wandering with the Gypsies, obtained it, and now is the only one in the city who has the GENUINE CHARM. Although unprincipled women who call themselves Clairvoyants. Astrologers and Fortune Tellers, claim to have its secret, rest assured its power is too sacred to be in the hands of such artful women who would put it to bad use.

Reader, do you ever notice that some people seem to have good luck all the time, no matter what they do, they seem to prosper, while others, yourself may be, have such a hard time to get along, no matter how hard they try, they find at the end of the year they are no better off than when they started. This is because they have not the Talisman, while the successful people, in all probabilities, have been to one of the few genuine mediums and obtained one.

If you are unsuccessful in business, have bad luck, things go wrong with you, then you should have an Egyptian Talisman. This removes all evil influences, brings good luck, and keeps all trouble and sickness away. Do not marry, begin any business or do anything until you have secured one of her Talisman. It will bring back the runaway lover wife or husband.

JAMES SIDNEY HINTON.

In the death of James Sidney Hinton, of Indiana, the race generally, loses a man, who for a great many years has been favorably known and prominently identified with the Negro's progress from the place that the act of emancipation left him to the advanced stage that thirty years of opportunity has brought him to-day. But before emancipation came to the Negro, when the way before him was still dark and forbidding, and no ray of hope and light was permitted to light up the stygian darkness of the toilsome journey of the bondman, in those days that tried men's souls, this dead man was a champion of his race, an alert and fearless advocate of right against wrong, and a prominent member of that heroic and consecrated band of souls that forty years ago were the marked and distinguished foes of the slave power, that then reigned in unquestioned authority over every foot of Indiana soil. The dangers that he invoked upon his head, the maledictions and curses that pursued him night and day during that woeful period, may well be remembered at this time and recorded to his lasting and unchanging credit. In very many respects James Sidney Hinton was a remarkable man, and possessed a personality and uniqueness, if not greatness of individuality, vouchsafed to but few men in this life. For fifteen years, and in some respects up to the day of his death, he was the race's chief representative in the State and was more widely known than any of his contemporaries. The qualities and characteristics, without which leaders are not made, were given him by nature in almost prodigal abundance. It was said of him, that he never forgot a name or face, while it was admitted upon all sides, that no man in the State of Indiana was better or surer authority on distances between cities, towns and localities away from rail roads, or the leading local lights of every cross-road community in the State. Few men are given the opportunities that for many years beckoned Mr. Hinton to great prominence and influence above his fellows. Certainly Indiana has not produced his rival in this respect, and if the facts of history must state that the deceased failed somewhat in reaching the high water mark of achievement hoped for him by his many friends and admirers, let him criticise harshly who has not made mistakes, and those who are without sin, let only such cast the first stone. Personally, as man to man, friend to friend, Mr. Hinton was a most genial gentleman, and companionable companion. His fund of anecdote and reminiscence was rich and inexhaustable. and he could give his charmed listeners the most minute details of the events and happenings of twenty-five, thirty and forty years ago. He has always been a strong, but consistent partizan of the Republican party, hence very naturally, and to his credit, an unflagging non-surrendering race man. He followed his party, but loved his race. The sudden summons, the occasion and surroundings of his "taking off" lent to his last moments a most dramatic interest. Away from home, among strangers, he died as you may say in the harness of party and race duty, and his party and his race should not forget him. "Take him for all and all we may not look upon his like again."

THE DUTY OF VOTING.

In general, it may be said that the wise use of power is a duty. Under our system of popular government, a part of the ruling power is lodged in the hand of every voter, so that he is "an uncrowned king." Not to use this power is to abdicate his throne, and leave the realm ungoverned, so far as his part of the soveriguty may go. A small matter for one among millions, do you say? Yes; but is it a small matter to that one? How shall any man prove himself virtuous or manly save by acting a virtuous or manly part?

And what would become of free government if it became the fashion with our citizens to stay away from the polls? Can any man of honor adopt a course which would be dangerous to public liberty if others were to follow his example? As the number of non-voting citizens increases, the portion of political power which they neglect to exercise will really be exercised by others, and the government may thus gradually slip into the hands of a few. Thus the republic would become an aristocracy. Yet not in a noble sense, for the word "aristocracy" originally ment "the ruler of the best:" whereas to let the control of this country fall into the hands of a few is to invite the rule of the worst. The non-voter's sin of ommission thus tends to the destruction of free government. If the stockholders take no interest in the company's affairs, whose fault will it be if they wake up some morning to find themselves "frozen out?"

There is one excuse for declining to vote. "Amid so many contradictory claims, I cannot vote intelligntely, and a blind vote may be worse than none." Granted; but does not the very fact that there is so much blind voting prove that you ought to improve your own political education, so that you may help to counteract the fool-voter? Does not every intelligent and active citizen become a center of light for others? Thus each man helps to lift or lower the standard of political action. At the heart of this plea of want of intelligence one may suspect a want of proper interest in public affairs, and a semi-forgetfulness of the fact that public affairs, being everybody's affairs, are partly in your personal charge. A man who holds a trust should qualify himself to fill that trust. He can betray it in two ways,—by executing it unintelligently and neglecting it altogether.

Before another issue of THE FREEMAN, this country will have witnessed the sublime spectacle of a national election. Ten millions of men—will have thronged to thirty thousand ballot-boxes and registered their verdict Sublimer still will be the spectacle of a minority, including nearly half the voters, peacefully accepting their own defeat, and joining with the victors in the shout, hurrah for the next President of the United States, whatever his name may be!

AZRAEL.

All the Year Round.

With quiet step, and features vailed and hidden
From all of mortal mold,
He comes once more who ever comes unbidden,
A Presence gray and cold.

Before him lies a silence sad and dreary,
As falling Hope departs;
Behind him rolls a mournful miserere,
The wail of anguished hearts.

Sounds men's deep sob, when ties are rent asunder,
So sweet and yet so brief,
And childhood's cry, where loss is touched with wonder,
And woman's truer grief.

Not yet around the vailed and somber angel
We see the glory burn,
Nor hear the whisper of the blest evangel
Below his accents stern.

The pain of Loss in Patience issues slowly,
But he who still aspires
Shall find his life serener made and holy
By Sorrow's cleansing fires.

Till this dark Presence, robbed of all its terror,
Blooms in eternal youth,
And opens for us, freed from fault and error,
The golden gates of Truth.

WELL!!!

THE Irish troops fought nobly for spoils. See?

WE told you that Harrison would be elected,—'taint so.

YES we were there, but only there, if we were in it, we don't know it.

YOU'RE another! Never shake your gory locks at me. Never say I did it!

IT is the finest kind of politics, in a horn, to forget old friends, and go off after strange gods.

HON. B. K. BRUCE, who has been campaigning in Indiana, left for Washington, D. C., Thursday night,

IT may be that we are wandering in our mind, or our vision is obscured, but don't that read C-l-e-v-e-l-a-n-d.

WITH the passing of President Harrison, passes also the office-holding Sunday school teacher and one-horse preacher. Thanks, Democrats, thanks!

THE Irish vote? Oh, yes the Irish vote—beg pardon, we had forgotten, the Irish vote, was the vote you know, the Irish vote would beat Cleveland; "jes so."

"WHEN in the course of human events," etc. Yes, thanks for the correction, but the fact is we were napping, and so gently you did your voting, voting, did we say, that——

WE want to say to "you fellahs" on "de udder side," that if at any time during this campaign we have made faces at you or called you naughty names, we take it all back. We thought you could take a joke.

HERE'S our hand, mourning friend, we feel your grief, for one swift moment we stood beside the "ticker" and saw our fondest hopes decay, the voice of the people, like the roar of the angry tide, smote upon our ear. and all was still. The people said "peace, be still with your Protection talk, and take your medicine," and friends we are trying to do so, as patiently and sweetly as possible.

ENGLAND AND HER AFRICAN CONQUESTS

England is again brought face to face with a difficult situation in her career of African conquest and absorption. The partitioning of Africa among European powers has now gone on for many years with many treaties, and at times with a bad feeling among the rival powers that has more than once threatened the peace of Europe. The immensity of the dark continent, and the fact that at present, at least, much of the territory sought to be brought under European sway is of indefinite and, for some time to come, indeterminable value and extent, are the chief reasons why this division of African spoils has hitherto progressed so peaceably.

At present the African question uppermost in European cabinets is the Uganda question, and for England the question is an especially embarrassing one to the new Liberal administration. The Uganda complications now demanding Lord Roseberry's attention, and likely soon to call for authoritative decision of the Premier himself, is a legacy of the Troy government and is generally regarded as another instance of Mr. Gladstone's bad luck in foreign affairs. Whether the Liberal government decides to leave Uganda or remain it will do so only at the price of accepting a grave responsibility and afford a precedent likely to embarrass future foreign complications. For England to hold on or to let go of a country thousands of miles away and inhabited by a half-civilized people of whom most Europeans and Americans know nothing beyond the fact that they dwell in the source-region of the Nile under the equator, thus becomes a question of European importance and significance.

Should Lord Roseberry decide to hold on effective British action will be promptly required for the preservation of order in Uganda. And this action may lead to serious complications with one or all of the other European powers concerned in the Nile region—France, Germany and Italy. On the other hand, should Lord Roseberry determine that Uganda is not worth the effort to hold it his action will be interpreted as but the prelude to the long talked of "scuttling out" of Egypt and the Soudan, and will furthermore bring upon him the anger of all the churches concerned in missionary work in this to them promising but perilous field For in Uganda converts to Christianity are not infrequently doomed to the stake and murder of missionaries has been by no means an unusual occurrence. Balancing such a question in diplomatic scales is not, therefore, a pleasing recreation for Lord Roseberry while his chief is preparing for the crowning effort of his life in settling the Irish question.

The British title to Uganda seems to be as good as or better than the title to many of England's possessions in other parts of the world. Since Speke and Grant visited Uganda in 1860, the British have never lost sight of the fertile and most attractive region at the head waters of the Nile, By various agreements and treaties with Germany and Italy in 1886 1889 and 1890, the sphere of British influence in Equatorial Africa was gradually extended, and by the cession of Heligoland to Germany the latter received a quid pro quo. But previous to these treaties there was an Anglo-French agreement in 1862, respecting the independence of Zanzibar, over which a British protectorate was extended after the cession of Heligoland. And thus France had a lever which she had used to challenge the validity of the Anglo-German convention of July 1, 1890, and by its means she finally secured a recognition of her protectorate over Madagascar, and the consolidation of her empire in Northwestern Africa. By agreement of May 6, 1891, Italy also receives certain concessions, and hence it may be concluded that Great Britain has thus bought her title to Uganda, so far as agreements among the three powers mentioned are concerned.

By agreement of April, 1891, the rights of the Egyptian Government over Kassala and other districts in which its authority had been disputed by the native tribes were declared to remain in suspense only until the Egyptian Government "shall be in a position to reoccupy the district in question." This principle, it is now held, will apply also to Uganda should the British East African Company withdraw its garrison. In other words, England, according to this view of it, would retire, but would still claim the right to occupy Uganda whenever it might suit her convenience to do so.—Inter Ocean.

THE RESULT.

At this writing, Wednesday 1 a. m., the indications are that Grover Cleveland is elected beyond all doubt, and that, in a word, the Republican party is snowed under almost beyond recognition. New York, Indiana, Connecticut, Illinois and perhaps Wisconsin and Michigan, have all given their electoral vote to Mr. Cleveland by casting their influence for Free Trade instead of Protection. "The king is dead, long live the king!" Harrison steps out of the presidential chair Cleveland steps in, and while the result, it would be useless to deny, was not to our liking or expectations, nevertheless we bow as gracefully as possible to the will and voice of the people; and with the same breath that we say good bye to President Harrison, than whom our country never owned a more upright chief magistrate, we uncover our head as becomes all American citizens, to our president who is, and say, hail to Grover Cleveland.

Helena Jottings.

Mr. A. D, Herron, our new justice of peace, took his seat a few days a go, he and Lawyer J, N. Donohoo can be found in their office up stairs in the new Straub building. Mr. H. W. Holoway made a pleasant business visit to Pine Bluff. Mr. Floyd went to Memphis to return with his family who is visiting relatives and friends. Miss F. B. Miller and A. C. Watson are officers of the chrysanthemum party, the former is president while latter is secretary Prof. T. S Inborder, assisted by one of his high grade pupils is having large attendence of night school scholars at The Helena Normal college. A slight altercation between Messrs. R. H. and John Wines at their place of business resulted in a dark eye for Steward. Miss Hattie Hatton returned a few days ago from teaching. A prize supper, given at the Centennial church by the pastors, was largely attended. An interesting feature was the contest between Miss Sadie Starkie of that church and Miss Lottie E. Claxton of the A. M. E. church for a large cake, the race was to be decided by votes costing five cents each. Miss Sadie Starkie was heavily supported by her church, which made what few visitors there were from the A. M. E. church exert every energy for Miss Lottie, but she lost the prize by only twelve votes. The race for the cake made it bring $14 60. Anery received a severe bruise on the head while working at the mill. Mr. J. C. Corbin attended court at Mariana. Mr. Mat Porter has moved back from St. Louis. On occount of the illness of Miss Mattie Caner, Miss Fannie Miller was substituted as a teacher for a few days at the Peabody building. News reached our city that Mrs. Marie Ross a widow of Clarenden lost one of her sons a few days ago with hemorrhage of the bowels. Rev. J. H. Brooks is in Memphis under Medical treatment. Mrs. A. L. Greer is recovering. Mrs. Sid Morris has her only daughter by marriage.

SHOW YOUR HEARTS.

Fathers, mothers, sisters, brothers, husbands, wives and friends—show your love, your affection for each other. This subject lies very near my heart. It has been my misfortune to know of fatal results arising from the fault of not expressing the real, true heart tones If we bury deep within us all kind feeling, complimentary thoughts, earnest longings, how can we grow near to anyone? There are occasions when the full expression of feeling must be governed by good taste and judgment. But in the home circle, with our girl friends, or where any claim of friendship is made upon us, let the heart speak truly.

The home is happiest where loving freedom is found, the mother's smile brightest where love, the expression of it, is close about her. Don't keep to yourself the sweet, complimentary remarks you have heard or been told about a friend. Go to her—tell it in your truest, heartiest way. It will bring joy in simply telling it, and in the knowledge that you have given pleasure. A little touch in passing one whom we love, will sometimes brighten a day.

God gave us hearts to love with. He never meant us to use a mask in the expression of our best feelings.

When a dear one is called away, is the pain lighter or easier to bear, for the knowledge that they never knew how much we cared for them?

More people grow apart just from the absence of honest expression of feeling than from hard words.

Pride is an excellent thing to possess when not applied wrongly. But it has been death to more tender ties than the world will ever know of.

The heart, when dominated by the will, is apt to be well cared for. Yet, to allow analysis to play too prominent a part in our heart promptings, is to strip too much of beauty from its expression.

The moment calculation enters into our heart motives, that instant we destroy the Maker's purpose in giving us power to love.

Tenderness costs so little, and yet, given here and there as we journey along, is invaluable in the good it may do.

I once heard a young woman say: "We never quarrel in our family." I found upon further inquiry that excess of politeness which often acts as a barrier to real feeling. They occupied the same house truly, they observed all the outward form that courtesy demanded, but they absolutely knew nothing of the inner lives of the family group. The fact of no little squabbles occurring, is no proof of home unity. Excessive courtesy between members of one family is death to intimacy. It places your home life on a plane with your social life. One's true self should be lived out at home. Living freedom, blended with frankness, is the keynote of home happiness.

There are many homes to-day that hold a vacant chair due solely to the fact that no special interest was ever taken in this member of the family, no affectionate encouragement given, no loving inquiry as to his success or doings. Some natures require all this, and not to get it crushes out all the good that may be in them.

We all need some one to care for us—to love us, to spur us on to higher and better things. The knowledge that our success means happiness to another, is sweeter to us than any reward we may gain.

Let your heart speak truly. Don't crush out all the good that is in you Carry sunshine wherever you go It is easy done. Kind words only as needed, loving praise given when merited, cordial enthusiasm for the work of another. If you love your friends, tell them so; if not in words then by proofs undeniable, of thoughtful consideration and sweet attentions that help to brighten life.

We all like to be admired, to hear kind things said of us, to be loved Then why deny others the delight of enjoying the same?

It is a sin to smother the honest promptings of our hearts. If we properly direct our affections they elevate us.

I am not encouraging undue demonstration when I ask you to show your real feelings.

Our friends will drop away from us if we do not give them care They need as much attention and cherishing as choice flowers.—[S. S. Kiddy Cochran, in Jenness Miller Monthly.

EDITOR'S TALK.

Most of those who have received prizes have sent in letters acknowledging the reception of the prizes and professing a great admiration for The Freeman's promptness in sending them. We have concluded to continue the contest until the 29th of the month.

⁂

We have four or five letters for Mr. Samuel B. Foster; also one for Miss S. H. These persons will send their addresses that we may forward the letters to them.

⁂

If applications for agensies mean anything at all, The Freeman must be on a boom.

⁂

Do not hold back any money that belongs to The Freeman. It is a bad sign when an agent writes us that he has in his possession this or that amount of money, winding up with the statement that he "will send it tomorrow." We have heard such talk so often that we look upon it as rather gauzy.

⁂

Many of the prize contestants are, doubtless, wondering why the lithographs of Frederick Douglass has not been sent. The demand for these lithographs has been somewhat great of late and we have exhausted the number we held in stock. We have ordered a fresh supply from the publishers and just as soon as possible those who are entitled to them will be accomodated.

⁂

No meaner thing can be imagined than that of a full grown, strong, able bodied man trying to defraud a small honest boy. In one of the southern cities our agent is a little fellow who is trying to earn an honest penny by selling The Freeman. He reports that several men requested him to get The Freeman for them; on presenting the paper, to the little fellow's astonishment, they refused to pay for it. Such action is despicable to say the least.

Chance to Earn a Valuable Present.

If you will send us 1,000 names of Afro-Americans we will send you a beautiful copy of "The Black Phalanx."

If you will send us 500 names we will send you "The Rape of Florida," a beautiful volume of poems.

For 250 names we will send you a lithograph of Toussaint L'Ouverture or Fred. Douglass.

For 100 names we will send you the "Game of Negro Characters," an excellent instructor for the young.

The names must be legibly written, of real, living people and arranged like the following model:

Geo. L. Knox, 91½ E. Court street, Indianapolis, Ind.;

William Jones, 40 S. Delaware street, Indianapolis, Ind.

All names that are sent in and found on our books or duplicated by others are checked off the lists.

No two names must be persons of the same family. Names must not be taken outside of the State or county in which the agent resides.

Names of students in colleges and schools are not counted.

These names must be sent to us by Nov. 29th so that we can publish the names of the prize winners in the issue of Nov. 30th.

U S. INFANTRY IN CAMP.

GRAPHIC ACCOUNT OF A JOURNEY FOR CAMP OF INSTRUCTIONS.

Fort Bayard, N. M. Special

Headquarters and Companies D, E, F and G, 24th Infantry, left this Post Sept. 15th, 1892, for Camp of Instructions on the Sapillo River, N. M., a beautiful location about thirty miles northeast of Post. The battalion was formed on the parade grounds and after the usual ceremonies, the battalion marched out preceded by the 24th Infantry Band to the tune of "Tramp! Tramp!" etc. The wives of officers and enlisted men bade them a cheerful good bye as they marched away. The Companies were fully armed and equipped for field service, and the battalion proceeded by wagon road to the Sapillo River and there established a permanent Camp of Instruction The marches and camps were made strictly in accordance with the New Drill Regulations and the men were carefully instructed on the march in all that pertained to marching and breaking camp. No tents were struck until the "General" was sounded, no straggling allowed, and every care and precaution exercise for the comfort and health of the men The following is an itinerary of the march to and from the camp: Headquarters and the four companies mentioned above started from Ft. Bayard, N. M., Sept 15th, '92 and marched to Ernest's Ranch and camped, distance six miles. After establishing camps, all repaired to their tents and amused themselves with past reminiscences. One who never passed a night in camp could hardly realize the pleasures in camp life among the soldiers. Next day, Sept 16th, they traveled twelve miles in about the same time the six were accomplished on the first day. Arriving at Reduction Works, on the Mimbres River, they bivouaced for the night. Next morning, Sept. 1 th, they left camp at Reduction Works and proceeded to Moulten's Ranch on the Sapillo River, distance twelve miles. On arriving in camp, orders were immediately published establishing a permanent camp and prescribing the hours for service, calls, including reveille, retreat, drills, theoretical instruction, school of the soldier and Company Band practice, etc. Also in the theoretical instructions prescribed, Company Commanders were directed to see that all available non commissioned officers and at least six privates in each company were instructed fifteen minutes in the forenoon in the school of the soldier and half an hour in the afternoon in the school of the company. The instructions in the school of the soldier were so conducted as to embrace all of the movements therein prescribed. Upon completion of the drills ordered, the Company Commanders were directed to report upon the operation of the New Drill Regulations so far as related to the schools of the soldier and company and were invited to submit such recommendations or suggestions as might enable the War Department to determine any errors which ought to be corrected. The commanding officers extended as compliments to company commanders as great freedom in the instruction of their respective companies as was consistent with official direction, the degree of proficiency attended by each organization being the subject o official report to the War Department. All work in camp was suspended during the hours assigned for drills and every enlisted man, except those excused by the commanding officers, were required to attend drills Companies were formed under arms at all established roll calls, and other occasions of ceremony, alarm or drill. All the above cited were continued without interruption to include Sept 29th, '92. Regular monthly inspection, as prescribed in army regulations, preceded by a review, was held Sept. 30th, '92, also drill in the school of the battalion was ordered on Oct. 1st, '92, and under the provisions of paragraph 252 of the New Drill Regulations Each captain was required to drill the battalion. In the school of battalion, Extended order, Advance and Rear Guards and Outpost duty followed at such time as was designated by the camp commanders. Following this the battalion was drilled in the extended order, and in the duties of advance and rear guards and outpost duty. The drill in the school of the battalion was so conducted as to embrace all elements therein prescribed, both in close and extended order. Much interest was manifested in the drill by both officers and enlisted men Owing to the temporary sickness of the commanding officer, Lt. Col. S S VanValzah, 24th Inft., Captain James N. Morgan, 24th Infantry, drilled the battalion, and his report on the proficiency of the men was excellent. A courier line was established between the Post and the camp over the trail which gave the camp a daily mail. The health of the men was excellent, and many games of amusement were indulged in, such as foot ball, base ball, running, jumping and many others too numerous to mention When not required for drill or other military duty, both officers and enlisted men were encouraged to hunt. Bear, deer, wild turkeys and squirrels being found in the vicinity of the camp. Many of the men while at leisure spent much of their time in digging up ancient relics, found in the long deserted homes and villages of the "Cliff Dwellers" of New Mexico. These people are supposed to have dwelt here among the rocks many years ago and numerous signs, characteristics, etc., inscribed on the faces of rocks shows the authenticity of the facts. After twenty or more days of camp life spent happily among the pines the battalion broke camp Oct. 8th, '92, to return home. On their return they marched the first day to Reduction Works, and from that place into the Post, a distance of eighteen miles, in four hours and forty minutes, not including halts. Regimental Sergeant, Major James W. Abbott, 24th Infantry, deserves much credit for the indefatigable manner in which he led the battalion. The Freeman is the best paper in the world. Every soldier should subscribe for it.

A Defalcation

To the members and stock holders of the Virginia Industrial, Mercantile, Building and Loan Association throughout the United States. Greeting:—

At a meeting of the General Board of Directors of V I. M B. & L. Association, held on the night of October 21st, J. H. Blackwell, Secretary and General Manager, and Dr. H. L. Harris, Treasurer, were removed on charges of mismanagement George Williams, Jr., was elected President and General Manager, W. H. Bailey, Secretary, and J. F. Brown, Treasurer. The other officers remain the same.

A previous meeting of the Stockholders held October 11, 1892, was declared by the Board illegal, because while there are 1,075 paid up members, Mr. Blackwell only notified 250 of them, when the law requires that all shall be notified.

President Williams says: "As many of you know, I have been on the field nearly all the time working to build the Association, while such was the case, the Manager and Treasurer seemed to have had an understanding between themselves whereby they could pay out money without the signature of the President, in such way that no direct account could be made of it The Manager would not turn monies over to the Treasurer, nor would the Treasurer demand it. The course of the Board has been to protect the interest of the Stockholders and it behooves you to stand by the Association, to make it as it is destined to be, the greatest in the country for the advancement of our people. Wherever we find dishonesty we intend to root it out.

"The persons removed had the entire charge of the last fair in Richmond and handled all the money, bringing the Association eight hundred dollars in debt. A number of the books and agents' reports have been taken from the office of J. H. Blackwell in order to cover up his mismanagement and careless handling of the people's money."

GEORGE WILLIAMS, JR.,
President and General Manager

A Railway Tragedy.

Ardmore, I. T., Special.

A bloody tragedy occurred on the Sante Fe passenger train between here and Gainesville, Tex., Nov. 4th, in which one deputy and a Negro passenger on the train were killed. The tragedy took place in the half of the combination smoking car, which is reserved for Negroes. In that department there were four Negroes and three U. S. deputies named Smith, Armstrong and Booker- One of the Negroes remarked in an offensive manner that that portion of the car was reserved for Negroes, and he would like to know what business white men had in it. Deputy Smith replied that white men could ride where they pleased and supplemented his remark with an oath which angered the Negroes. Smith was riding in front of the Negroes and he arose to go back to the other compartment. The Negro who had started the quarrel evidently thought the deputy was about to attack him, and drawing a revolver shot him through the heart. Immediately a battle between the whites and ensued, in which a number of shots were fired. When the melee ended it was found that the Negro who had attacked Smith had been killed. When the train arrived here all concerned in the affair were arrested. The train was crowded with first-class passengers, among whom the battle caused the greatest excitement. The Negro who was killed has not been identified

Appreciates a Temporal Benefit.

I am so well pleased with your paper I don't forget to mention it wherever I go. If I were able I would place it in the family of every colored person in my county. My wife says I think more of The Freeman than I do of the Bible, but she is mistaken. I read the Bible for my spiritual benefit and The Freeman temporal benefit.

On motion of the assembly the following resolutions on the death of Hon. J. Sidney Hinton were framed and adopted:

WHEREAS, Our most worthy and distinguished friend Hon. J S. Hinton has been taken from our midst by the resistless hand of death and

WHEREAS, His usefulness in this community as an honored citizen will be greatly missed. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we greatly deplore his death, and hereby tender our most profound sympathy to his relatives and friends.

By order of the Indianapolis Ministerial Alliance, Nov. 7, 1892.

ELDER E B. MARTIN,
" W. H. CHAMBERS,
" J. W. CARR, Sec.

Further Resolved, That the ministers attend in a body.

JAMES SIDNEY HINTON.

SUDDEN DEATH OF THIS WELL KNOWN CITIZEN.

This community was deeply shocked on last Sunday morning, by receiving intelligence of the very sudden death of the Hon. J. S Hinton, which occurred at Brazil, Ind., Sunday morning November 6th, where he had made a political speech on Saturday night previous. Mr. Hinton had for some time been ailing and his friends could discern an abatement of his wanted buoyancy but were prone to attribute it to the declension of vigor natural at his time of life and little suspected that the end was drawing nigh. He was billed to make the last Republican speech of the campaign at Brazil and arrived in that city apparently in good health. He went to the wigwam, where a large audience had assembled. After being introduced he only spoke a few words until he fell and was carried unconscious to the Hardin Hotel where he died. Perhaps no man in this and ubiquitous states was better known than J. Sidney Hinton, and in this state more especially he was as a near relative to some of its most prominent families. He came to this state early in the fifties and had held the travail through which a rabid slave holder's "joint" had merged into one of the fairest states that graced the Union in the treatment of her citizens black and white. He has been in touch with all the great movements which have operated to race elevation and has perhaps as much as any citizen of Indianapolis sought the perfection of her church, school and fraternal institutions He became a member of the legislature in 1880 and served one term. He has several times since been a conspicuous possiblity for the legislative and other official trusts, to which his broad information touching matters of State and municipal economy made him highly eligible. He was a widower, his wife having died about three years since. He had no near relatives in this city. He was a member of Waterford Masonic lodge which took charge of his remains. The funeral was held at Bethel A. M. E. church on Vermont street, Thursday Nov. 10th and was largely attended, the ministers of the city being present in a body.

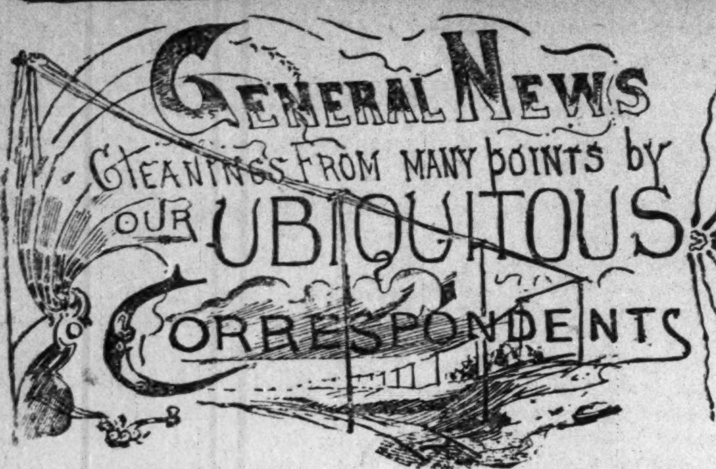
Wedding Bells.

Indianapolis society people are on the qui vive of expectation at the approaching nuptials of Dr. J. B. Elbert and Miss Marinda E. Cooper, which takes place at Bethel A. M. E. church Wednesday, Nov. 16th, the details of which bid fair to surpass in point of elegant elaborateness any affair which has taken place in this city for a long time. The bridesmaids will be six in number, two of which came from distant cities. The ceremony at the church will be followed by a reception at the residence of the groom's father, Dr. S. B. Elbert The groom elect is one of our best-known and most highly respected young men and the pride of many friends who have watched his carreer from infancy to that of an efficient and prosperous physician. The bride, until recently a resident of Memphis, Tenn., is a young lady of admirable traits and one who has won to herself a host of friends during her brief residence in this city, and taken all in all the union is considered a very auspicious one and The Freeman joins many friends in wishing them bon voyage on the matrimonial sea.

Put the Lights Out,

Jackson, Tenn , Special.

The Republicans of Madison county Tennessee are not "in it," so to speak, so says a prominent Democrat to another, but on Wednesday Hons. Matthews, of Chattanooga, and Turner, of Memphis, Tenn., spoke to the people here of Democratic tricks. Hon. Turner spoke in the court house, which was crowded with Republicans. The Democrats would not swallow the pill so they tried to prevent it by putting out the lights, but Turner spoke in the dark until candles were brought and the house lighted. Miss Susie Alston and Henry Driver were married Thursday, October 27th. On the same night in East Jackson Miss Lizzie Robertson and B. Topps tied the nuptial knot, Rev. R. T. James officiated. Miss Helena Parkman is out after an attack of fever. The people of Jackson can not afford to cease reading The Freeman, for it is the newsiest sheet published. The Freeman is sold by Walter Reed and J. H. Trimble every Saturday. You will lose something if you don't buy one The city school, Prof. A. R. Merry, Principal, is doing a good work. Lane Institute is under the guidance of proficient teachers. Prof. E. W. Benton, as principal, is doing excellent work. Miss S. A. C. Harper, one of the city school teachers, has been ill, but is at her post.



A Step Forward,

In the grand display, now in preparation of what America had accomplished the Negro, although so important a factor in the development of this country has been entirely omitted. Although for 250 years in the most abject state of bondage, closely following which subject to great barriers of prejudice and oppression that tended to retard his progress, the Negro has made most wonderful strides in the progress of civilization. Any display to the visiting world in which the Negro is omitted must be and therefore is incomplete. By such omission there is also a great injustice being done, a hitherto inferior and oppressed people.

After much study and careful consideration I have formed a plan which I hope, will receive your approval snd assistance. The Negro's great achievements have been on art, Literature, and music, hence, he would appear to best advantage in a display of these talents. It is my ambition to collect all of the most capable of the race, by reason of both talent and culture in vocal and instrumental music for the purpose of presenting Italian, English, and Negro Opera.

The question will doubtless arise: What is Negro opera? I have now in preparation the Libretto and score for the opera of Uncle Tom's Cabin, all of which together with the special scenery, will be executed by colored talent. This opera, together with the various, Italian and English operas will be given during the entire six months of the "World's Fair." There will also be special "Plantation Concert Nights" on which only Jubilee music will be sung; and Classical concert Nights on which only the best Classical music will be rendered. In this way the ability and great progress of theNegro can be seen and better appreciated. This plan fully and thoroughly explained, I have submitted to the Musical Bureau of the World's Columbian Exposition, which has the matter now under advisement. Dr. Jiegfeld, of the Chicago Temple and College of music has throughly investigated my plans and gives them his hearty endorsement. If you have heard the wonderful voices of Selika, Sisserietta Jones, and Loudin or, the exquisite skill of the violinists, Joseph de Brindes and Joseph Douglass, as a nucleus of an orchestra, you must certainly be convinced of the feasibility of my plan, Respectfully,

WILL M. COOK,

Student of Royal Conservatory of music, Berlin Germany. Address, 3123 Dearborn St. Chicago, Ill.

Taxation without Representation.

Washington, D C., Special.

The District of Columbia is a sort of government which originated in the not too fertile imagination of some would-be statesman. Washingtonians white and black, rich or poor pay taxes into the overflowing coffers of Uncle Sam, but alas when election day comes they look at their brother in the remaining part of the country walk up and deposit a ballot. This is not only so of Washington, but of the whole tract of land lying on the Potomic of historic fame, and to which the much misapplied name has been bequeathed, the "District of Columbia." A district where voting is prohibited, where able bodied citizens are deprived of suffrage, where three commissioners are the chief executive power, where no one has a right to say a word about who shall be President, or who shall not, but despite these conditions there is more political enthusiasm to the square inch than in any other place in the country. Memorial exercises were held last Sunday evening by Metropolitan A. M. E. church over the late American poet, John G Whittier. Mr. Hart delivered an excellent address, giving the history of the life of this great anti-slavery man whose life was given to demanding freedom for the oppressed. CHAS. S. DIXON.

In Union there is Strength.

McKeesport, Pa., Special.

The colored men here have organized a permanent club, whose object is to secure to the colored voter the spoils of office alike with other factions of the party who lend their aid. The members are among the leading men of the district, and already politicians are striving to capture the club, but we have little fear of seeing it sold out. Adam Golden, one of the richest colored men of the valley, and W. F Saunders addressed the club recently. This paper will chronicle the doings of the club.

Columbus Day at Alcorn.

Rodney, Miss., Special.

In accordance with the proclamations by the president of the United States, and the Governor of our state, the teachers and studeuts of Alcorn celebrated "Columbus Day" with appropriate exercises. The first dawn of morning was very foggy' but soon the Fiery King of the Solar System peeped above the horizon and dispelled the mists. Knowing that every school boy and girl would render homage to the great Italian discoverer, we arose with light hearts, singing his praise. The chapel had been beautifully decorated with the national colors, while just in front of the rostrum, and reaching from one side of the chapel to the other, was stretched a large flag at 10o'ck the bell announced the beginning of the following program:

Music, College Band; prayer, Mr. Townsend; song, "Chesterfield;" Governor's Proclamation, J. H. Gimer; "Columbus Banner," L. R. Smith; "Meaning of Four Centuries," L. J. Rowan; song, "John Brown's Body," Character of Columbus, Mr. Lester; The World's Fair, Prof. Martin; Our Country, Prof. J. D. Burns.

In accordance with the request of of the Hon. J. R. Preston, State Superintendent of Public Education, the teachers and students raised a contribution to aid the state in making a creditable educational exhibit at the World's Fair. The day's celebration was closed by the meeting of Alcorn's two literary societies, the Lyceum and the Literary Gem, both being well attended.

Harrodsburg, Ky.

Rev. Davis is carrying on a revival with success. Young men and young women, can't we have a society for weekly exercises. We had a good society one. Now just start out afresh Dr. Wade entertained a few friends at Mrs. Kate Easton's, Monday evening. It was his thirtieth anniversary. Rev. Spellman preached an instructive sermon in the newly repaired church, Rev. Frazier is pastor at St. Peter's A. M. E. Church. Harrodsburg has no dancing school teachers yet. Mrs. Annie Jenkins has moved on Preacher avenue, opposite the Rock Hill cemetery. Miss Lettie Thomas is in Indianapolis, visitihg. Benjamin Compton visited Louisville last week. The pupils of Mr. Coleman, the artist, are improving rapidly.

A Colored Contractor.

Decatur, Ill., Special.

Attorney Woodford addressed a large Republican meeting at Macon last Saturday evening. Mr. Woodford explained the tariff to the satisfaction of all Republicans. He dealt with the Illinois Educational bill with ease. Baker Nickens, the postman, is always ready to supply his customers with The Freeman. Mrs. Thos Miller left last week for an extended trip through the South. Mrs. Miller will visit her mother at Ashville, N. C., remaining there for several weeks, and will visit relatives in Spartanburg, S. C., returning by the way of Knoxville, Tenn. The members of the N. E, S. I R. club attended a ball at Lamsville. Among Decatur's men of thrift are Alfred King, the colored carpenter and contractor. Mr King owns an elegant home. He has at present the contract for two ten room houses. He employs three and four men at present.

Death's Ravages.

Rockville, Ind., Special.

Mrs. Pollard, from Texas, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Ellen Jones. Mrs Talbert, of Bloomingdale, visited her mother in Vigo county last Sunday. Many of our people went to Terre Haute to hear Governor McKinley. Mrs. Edward Fields was called to Terre Haute on account of the death of grandmother Fover. Columbian day was celebrated by the school with appropriate exercises. Miss Whitter spent her vacation in Terre Haute. Our schools are having new walks and a brick walk the length of the yard in front. We contemplate having Arbor day exercises soon. Rev. White had his first rally last Sunday, collecting $57.19. Elder Kelly, of Lost Creek, assisted during the services. W. Allison Sweeney spoke at Rosedale Thursday night, and Friday he addressed the people of Rockville. Hon. John E. Lamb spoke at the court house the same night, Mr. Sweeney speaking in the opera house. The house was full and even the hall way. For two hours and twenty minutes he held his audience by his masterly argument and wonderful eloquence. The Republican paper says: "It was the greatest speech that has been given in this county this campaign." The popular sentiment to hear him again was so great that the county committee tried to get him for another date. During the last five months eleven have died here. Last Friday Mrs. Fannie Dickerson died, having been sick less than a day. She leaves a husband and four little children. Next day Mrs. Isabell Wesley died. She leaves two married daughters and a husband. The next day the word came to us that aunt Julia Brouer fell dead.

Negro Everytime.

DEAR SIR:—The Freeman of Oct. 22nd contained a unique treatise of our racial denomination, written by Rev. Cæsar A. A. Taylor, captioned "What are we?" I enjoyed the subject taken by Rev. Taylor, and as he wanted to hear from readers of The Freeman on the subject, I speak without hesitation, We are Negroes, and I want no greater title of nobility than that I am a Negro! And I hope the time is not far distant when the sons and daughters of Ham will answer to no other name than that of Negro. Are you ashamed of the name? If you are, you are ashamed of victory, of success, of advancement, of glory and lastly of the creation of an omnipotent God. Words are powerless to convey the pleasure it gives me to know that I am a Negro. I am glad to know that I am of the race that first drank from the fountain of civilization. Let us not use the term "Colored," since it can be applied to those who are not of the Negro race and who are not worthy of such a commendation. Let us not use the term "Afro-American," lest when you speak of the great deeds of the Negro you scatter the honor due him. But let us be called Negroes, and let a vehement boundary line of consanguinity be drawn between the races of the globe—that the crown of laurels may be placed on the head of the race "that gains the day." The name "Negro" is scoffed at because 'tis so great. Away with the terms "Nigger," "Colored" and "Afro-American" and cling to that just and noble title, "Negro." B. F. ABNER,

TESTIMONIALS:

Newtown, Feb 17th, 1891.

Dear Sir—To those suffering from Spinal trouble, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Heart Disease and Rheumatism, I would highly recommend Prof. Boudrou's remedies; I was a sufferer of those complaints for years at times; was hardly able to move; could not straighten myself. The pain and agony was inexpressible. I doctored with several physicians for years, found but little relief, not permanent, until I was cured by his medicine. Of different kinds of cough and catarrh medicine, his is unsurpassed; would highly recommend Prof. Boudrou's liniment and medicines to all sufferers.

Respectfully yours,
M. T. VANARTSDALEN,
Newtown, Bucks Co., Pa.,

Newtown, Feb. 17th, 1891.

Prof. Boudrou.

Dear Sir—Allow me to write you a testimony of your medicine. I can say to all those suffering with ailments of my description, would recommend Prof. Boudrou's medicine. Had terrible pains in my stomach for a long time. My suffering can hardly be described by word; it deprived me of my sleep at nights; would lie awake suffering with pain for hours at a time. Doctored with several physicians; their medicine would for a while relieve me, but would soon lose their effect; by using Prof. Boudou's remedies have been entirely cured; would recommend his remedies to all those suffering with similar complaints.

Respectfully yours,
T. M. VANARTSDALEN,
Newton, Bucks Co.

By a meeting of the colored citizens of Atlanta, Ga., October 20th the following notice was ordered sent to the various colored churches in the city with the request that it be read to their congregations:

Whereas, we as free American citizens, after careful consideration of the present regulation of the street railways of Atlanta, come to the conclusion that we are unjustly and unlawfully discriminated against, unjust because it abridges our libetry, unlawful because it provides no separate departments. Therefore be it, Resolved That we advise our people to stay off the street cars until the matter is properly adjusted, or the state law repealed.

Peter Smith, a colored, ex-soldier living in Columbus, O., entered the army from Massachusetts, and being wounded, was among the first soldiers of the civil war to be pensioned. For nearly thirty years he has been drawing $8 per month. When he called at the pension office for his last installment he was informed that payment must be withheld Next day a special pension agent called at his house to arrest him as a pension fraud. He informed Smith that the real person to whom the pension was due died twenty years ago, and that his widow was now living at Alexandria, Va, and drawing a pension. Smith explained that he left his wife before entering the army and had never seen or heard of her since. He also furnished proof that he is the man who should receive the pension. The pension department will now look up the woman who claims to be his widow, She has evidently sworn that he is dead.

Hymen's Carnival,

Boston, Mass., Special.

A reception was tendered the Hon. John R Lynch, of Mississippi, by the citizens of the Ninth Ward a few days ago at the American House. Addresses were made by Mesers, Lynch, Robert M. Teamoh, Wm. H. Dupee, Nelson Gaskins, Rev. J. A. Brockett and others. Mme. M. M. Simpson and her father, J. A. Cravatt, have returned from a three weeks' visit at Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New Jersey. Mrs. Simpson sang at ths Nineteeth Street Baptist church, Washington, and in Philadelphia at Allen Chapel. On Wednesday evening October 26th Charles Street A. M. E. church was the scene of a pretty but quiet wedding. The contracting parties were H. H. Batcheldor and Miss Augusta Mason A reception followed on Thursday evening, the 27th. H. H. Wilson and Miss Mary Caution were also married, Rev. J. T. Hayslett officiating. The bride wore a handsome cream china silk, the groom the conventional black. The bridesmaid was Miss Kate Caution, sister of the bride. The best man was H. W. Lewis, of Harvard College; the ushers, G. W. Forbes and J. C. Calden, of Amherst College. Among the many valuable presents was $100 in gold and one dozen silver tea spoons from Messrs. J. P. Squires, his employer and friends about the market, where Mr. groom has been employed for some time. A handsome marble clock from Mr. and Mrs. J E. West, sister and brother-in-law of the groom; one dozen silver knives and forks, Mr. and Mrs. A. Woodward; silver spoon holder; Mr. and Mrs Hathaway; silver cake basket, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scott; silver, gold lined fruit spoon, J. D. Cook; silver butter dish, John Franklin. Among the many present were William H. Dorsey, of New York City; Miss May B. Lake, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Cook and daughter, of Johnstown, Penn; Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield; Cashier of the firm of John P. Squire & Co. They will go to housekeeping at No. 8 Grove street. On Wednesday, October the 26th, the State Grand Lodge of Massachusetts of the order of G U. O. of B. and S. of L. and C. met in Odd Fellows Hall in a pleasant session, followed by a grand collation.

Political Puns.

Omaha, Neb., Special.

Omaha, the metropolis of Nebraska, like all other cities and town in the United States is just merging from the throes of political excitement and strife. The national election always fraught with great interests has been augmented by the grave and momentus questions that were placed before the voters for solution. Not only in Nebraska, but in several Western and Northwestern States there has been increased determination on the part of the Republican and Democratic parties to overcome an unknown quantity: namely, the Independent party. The woods are full of them and they claimed everything in sight and out of sight, from the governor down to ward assessors. Miss Cora Hawkins, one of our leading young society ladies, left last Monday for Chicago, where she expects to make her future home. Her parents and their family will leave for Chicago in a few weeks. Miss Winonah James leaves Thursday for Anniston, Ala., to spend the winter with relatives, stoping in St Louis to spend a few days with Miss Bulah Roots, and at Nashville, Tenn, the guest of her cousin, Miss Eva James. Miss James will return to Omaha and her friends at Easter tide Mrs. Addison Moore left Omaha for Monmouth, Ill., to be at the sick bed of her brother. Our genial friend P. J. Williams, who has for several years held a government position in the stationary department at Washington, D. C., is home on a visit. Mrs. James Braxton has returned to the city after a few days' visit to her parents at Blair, Neb. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Henderson, who have been sick for several weeks, are convalescing. Little Alma Ricketts, the five-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. O Rickets, died Saturday, October 29th, after a long and painful illness. The parents have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

Washington, Ind,

Chalmer Hawkins is sick. Wylie Blackey and W. H. Taylor, our school teachers, have done much good for the public school. J. Washington is a prominent barber at the Stewart Place. A. G Clayborn has started business at the Arlington Place. L. E. Hunnenyer has a colored druggist. Anyone can get The Freeman from J. W. Carr.

New Albany, Ind.

A mass meeting of the colored voters was held at Zion Church Wednesday, October 26th. Stirring addresses were made by Dr. H. Fitzbutler, of Louisville, W. O. Vance and others. Rev. James A. Davis, pastor of the A. M. E, church, has been transfered to St. John church, Nashville, Tenn. The members were sorry of the change. Rev Davis is an elequent minister and is regarded among the ablest in the connection. Hon. W. O. Bradley delivered one of the ablest addresses of the campaign at the opera house Monday, Oct. 21st. This has been truly a campaign of education and right ably has The Freeman taught many wholesome Republican lessons.

Trenton, N. J.

On Thursday evening the Union Republican Club turned out one hundred and sixty-five members strong. The Harrion and Reid Club turned out ninety-three, in full uniform. The only colored man who took part in the Columbus parade was our letter carrier, Henry D Crusen.

A Musical Union.

Charleston, S. C., Special.

Many Charlestonians attended the teachers' examination held at Mt. Pleasant last Saturday. Among those who made a creditable showing were Misses Annie Mackay, Mattie Cole, Bluette Robinson, Irene Toomer, Martha Shorts, Harriet Fraser and Messrs. S. B. Wright and J. R Martin, Jos. Berry, president of the colored teachers association, was also present. The Uthiel and the Ladies' Lily Clubs had their entertainments October 26th. Miss Mary Ann Walker and Edward Patrick were married at the residence of the bride last Wednesday evening. A novel wedding occurred at Wesley M. E. church October 27th. The contracting parties were William Smith and Miss Annie McLeish. They are popular members of the choir. The former being the chorister and the latter the organist, The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. H. Coit. The Revs. E C. Brown and C. C. Jacobs were present.

Higgston, Ga.

A young man named Springfield was shot on the roadside by a white man named Neil Marrass. Springfield died. Springfield came from Wilmington, N. C., in 1888 to McBride, Ga. Marrass is a Georgia man. No course of law is being taken.

Put the Lights Out.

Jackson, Tenn., Special.

The Republicans of Madison county Tennessee are not "in it," so to speak, so says a prominent Democrat to another, but on Wednesday Hons. Matthews, of Chattanooga, and Turner, of Memphis, Tenn., spoke to the people here of Democratic tricks Hon. Turner spoke in the court house, which was crowded with Republicans. The Democrats would not swallow the pill so they tried to prevent it by putting out the lights, but Turner spoke in the dark until candles were brought and the house lighted. Miss Susie Alston and Henry Driver were married Thursday, October 27th. On the same night in East Jackson Miss Lizzie Robertson and B. Topps tied the nuptial knot, Rev. R, T. James officiated. Miss Helena Parkman is out after an attack of fever. The people of Jackson can not afford to cease reading The Freeman, for it is the newsiest sheet published. The Freeman is sold by Walter Reed and J. H. Trimble every Saturday. You will lose something if you don't buy one. The city school, Prof. A. R. Merry, Principal, is doing a good work Lane Institute is under the guidance of proficient teachers. Prof. E. W. Benton, as principal, is doing excellent work. Miss S. A. C. Harper, one of the city school teachers, has been ill, but is at her post.

Carthage, Mo.

Mrs. J. E. Crushong died Oct. 26th. She was born in Madison county, Ky., in 1817; She has been a member of the First Baptist church thirty years. C. L. Frazier, a prominent young man of the city, is very ill. Mrs. Charles Stemmons is able to be out again; she has been very sick. The Y. M. C. A. met here on the 28th of October. There were two Negro representatives from Jefferson City, James Edwards and Alreston. Messrs. N. T. Green, of Joplin, and S. B. Turner, of Kansas City, Kan., gave us a short visit on the 29th ult. Two grand rallies were held at Webb City and Joplin October 28th and 29th. Both places were largely attended by the Negroes of Carthage. Major Warner made a speech at each that will be long remembered. The Carthage band is coming to the front. The Teachers' Association will be held to-day.

Columbus describes the landing on San Salvador Oct 14, 1492

We could saile nearly close to the coaste. Ye shipper hove to and we rode at anchor at a distance of two stones' throw from ye lande, and then I did give ye order that ye whole crewe shoulde clothe themselves in their best garments and put on theyre full uniforms. Thys order they did obeye with the greatest willingnesse and delighte.

I dressed myselfe in best parade uniform and with alle my decorations as admiral and viceroy in order that I might take possession of ye newely discovered land solemnlie and formally in ye name of ye Spanish Crowne. When alle were dressed I did unfold ye Spanish flag and hadde ye boates lowered and ye gangwaye let downe.

All embarked in ye boates except a few who stayed behind as guards to take care of the shippe.

I kept standing upright in ye bote with ye flag in myne hand, and then gave ye signale for landing

Columbus certainly appreciated the value of good dress and its effect upon the people he was about to meet. "Dress oftimes makes the man," was true in 1492 and now as well. We make to order the best suit obtainable for the least possible cost to you

CLOAKS, FURS, DRESS GOODS

For Ladies, Misses and Children

PAYMENTS OR CASH.

REASONS WHY

You should buy from us

BECAUSE our stock is large, new, stylish, good and cheap.
BECAUSE we guarantee a good fit.
BECAUSE we were first to sell goods on the installment plan in Indianapolis. Have been in the business for more than twelve years, and have a reputation for fair dealing.
BECAUSE, if you are a little short of cash, it is the most convenient way to get a warm cloak just when you need it.
BECAUSE you don't have to "lay it away" until you take cold and suffer from the want of it.
BECAUSE we give a very liberal discount if you pay in full in 30, 60 or 90 days. If you do this your purchase is really a cash transaction any way
BECAUSE WE WILL UNDER ALL CIRCUMSTANCES DEAL FAIRLY WITH YOU.
